Who:

We are seeking engaging and informative scientific sessions that highlight clinical expertise, emerging research, and practice innovations. Proposals are encouraged across all areas of veterinary medicine and professional practice.

What have our speakers said about the CVMA Convention:

"Bravo to an amazing team at CVMA who created a powerful educational experience combined with heart. A+ all-around in terms of prep and on-site care and commitment to the audience individually and collectively."

"What a wonderful opportunity to feel a part of veterinary medicine in Canada! The CVMA convention combines community, with lifelong learning with lots of social opportunities and a beautiful location."
