XXIV Panamerican Congress of Veterinary Sciences. October 6–9, 2014, the Conventions Palace, Havana, Cuba. The Panamerican Association of Veterinary Sciences (PANVET) is the professional organization who congregates veterinarians from North, Central and South America. The Panamerican Veterinary Sciences Congress assemblies every two years with the veterinary professionals across the Americas. Official languages of the convention are Spanish and English, with simultaneous interpretation in the main sessions, additional sessions could be translated, at the discretion of the Scientific Committee. Website: www.panvetcuba.com

4th Annual International Association of Hospice and Palliative Care (IAAHPC)’s Conference. October 9–12, 2014, the Downtown Embassy Suites, Indianapolis, IN, USA. Networking opportunities, round table discussions, and upwards of 26 hours of CE in end-of-life care work will be offered. Website: http://iaahpc.org/component/dregister/evetid=2&controller=event&task=individualRegister

L’Association des médecins vétérinaires du Québec (AMVQ) — Scientific Program 2014 — Practical guide to life in clinic. October 19, 2014, Palace Convention Centre, Laval, Quebec. All lectures are in French. Speakers: Mr. Stephan Maighan, Mr. Stéphane Simard. Contact: AMVQ: tel.: (450) 963-1812 or 1-877-963-1812; e-mail: cathie.huard@acvq.qc.ca

2014 CanWest Veterinary Conference — Take Your Knowledge to New Heights in the Canadian Rockies. October 25–28, 2014, at the Fairmont Banff Springs Hotel, Banff, Alberta. The CanWest Conference is renowned as the most engaging and informative veterinary event in Western Canada. It offers an extensive educational program designed for the entire animal health care team that is presented in an exquisitely beautiful environment with down home Western hospitality. Program and registration details coming soon. Website: www.canwestconference.ca

Save the Date — Cat Healthy Symposium. October 26, 2014, the Ontario Veterinary College (OVC), Guelph, Ontario. Cat Healthy Canada will be hosting all five of Canada’s accredited feline specialists at the OVC as they present feline cases and the Cat Healthy Preventive Healthcare Protocols. This full day CE session is sponsored by Bayer, Hill’s, IDEXX, Merial & Petsecure. Registration for this event will be open to veterinarians and members of the veterinary healthcare team. There will be a nominal fee to register, and registration will open in June. Website: www.cathealthy.ca

NOVEMBER/NOVEMBRE 2014
28th Biennial Caribbean Veterinary Medical Association Conference. November 4–7, 2014, Cayman Islands Veterinary Medical Association (CIVMA), Cayman Islands. The conference theme is Opening New Frontiers in Veterinary Medicine: The Work, The Life, The Balance and is expected to attract over two hundred participants from the Caribbean, the Americas, and countries of the British Commonwealth. The conference committee has invited world-renowned speakers in the Veterinary and Allied Health professions. Website: www.cvbma.org

L’Association des médecins vétérinaires du Québec (AMVQ) — Programme scientifique — Colloque — Dermatologie. Le 16 novembre 2014, Centre de Congrès Palace, Laval, Québec. Conférencier : Dr. Stephen D. White. Contact: AMVQ; tel. : (450) 963-1812 ou 1-877-963-1812; courriel : cathie.huard@acvq.qc.ca

L’Association des médecins vétérinaires du Québec (AMVQ) — Scientific Program 2014 — Dermatology. November 16, 2014, Palace Convention Centre, Laval, Quebec. All lectures are in English. Speaker: Dr. Stephen D. White. Contact: AMVQ; tel.: (450) 963-1812 or 1-877-963-1812; e-mail: cathie.huard@acvq.qc.ca

London Vet Show 2014. November 20–21, 2014, Grand Hall Olympia, London, United Kingdom. The London Vet Show programme features three clinical streams of small animal CPD from the Royal Veterinary College plus two clinical streams of large animal CPD from the British Veterinary Association. There is also a management stream, extensive workshop programme and great social opportunities. The event also features the biggest lineup of exhibitors at any European event with over 350 highly relevant and unique suppliers to help you develop your practice. Website: www.londonvetshow.co.uk
Radiography. November 22–23, 2014, Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph, Ontario. This course is focused on imaging interpretation in the small animal patient. The main focus of the two day course is to cover thorax, abdomen, and musculoskeletal imaging in small animals. These lectures will cover pulmonary patterns, pleural and mediastinal space, cardiac disease, peritoneum and retroperitoneum, abdominal disease, and aggressive versus non-aggressive bone lesions. Speaker: Anthony Pease DVM MS DACVR. Contact: QualityCE Inc.; tel: (519) 265-5588; website: www.qualityceinc.com

JANUARY/JANVIER 2015
Western Canadian Association of Bovine Practitioners — 2015 Annual Conference. January 15–17, 2015, Saskatoon, SK. More details to come. Contact: Phyllis Mierau; tel: 1-866-269-8387; e-mail: info@wcabp.com; website: www.wcabp.com

APRIL/AVRIL 2015
Dog Training Seminar with Dr. Sophia Yin. April 10–13, 2015, Ottawa, ON. Veterinarian and Animal Behaviorist Dr. Sophia Yin is coming to Ottawa for a 4-day learning workshop tailored to those who physically handle dogs and cats. An array of topics to improve the understanding of animals and their behavior will be discussed. Early bird and group rates available. Website: http://www.summit4dogs.com/Dr-Sophia-Yin-Seminar-Information.html

Medical Acupuncture for Veterinarians — Small Animal and Exotics. April 17–21, 2015, Fort Collins Marriott, Fort Collins, CO, USA. The Medical Acupuncture for Veterinarians (MAV) program provides critically evaluated, scientifically based, and evidentially informed instruction in veterinary medical acupuncture. This course contains both an online and onsite components. A certificate of completion is awarded upon graduation of the clinical intensive. For more information: http://www.onehealthsim.org/pdfs/mavBrochure.pdf; contact: Linnea Chruscielski; e-mail: Linneac@onehealthsim.org; website: www.onehealthsim.org

Medical Acupuncture for Veterinarians — Equine and Farm Animal. April 22–26, 2015, Fort Collins Marriott, Fort Collins, CO, USA. The Medical Acupuncture for Veterinarians (MAV) program provides critically evaluated, scientifically based, and evidentially informed instruction in veterinary medical acupuncture. This course contains both an online and onsite components. A certificate of completion is awarded upon graduation of the clinical intensive. For more information: http://www.onehealthsim.org/pdfs/mavBrochure.pdf; contact: Linnea Chruscielski; e-mail: Linneac@onehealthsim.org; website: www.onehealthsim.org