TEN REASONS
WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND
THE 65TH CVMA CONVENTION

1. It’s good to connect with colleagues over email, it is better to connect on the phone, but the best way to connect is face-to-face at a convention, and it always will be.

2. Re-energize your mind! The best ideas come when you least expect them and who knows what possibilities await you in the Scientific Program featuring over 28 speakers from Canada and the United States.

3. The Business Management Program is designed to share strategies that are working. This year, learn how to build a successful feline practice and how to understand and measure client satisfaction.

4. Update your professional credentials since 24 hours of CVMA CE may be credited toward the continuing professional development hours required by provincial veterinary licensing boards for the maintenance of your license.

5. See the best products and services in the Exhibit Hall where over 66 exhibitors are showcasing state-of-the-art tools under one roof. It doesn’t get any easier to find out what’s new in the marketplace.

6. Being around like-minded professionals is inspirational, so find out what the CVMA is doing on your behalf at the AGM and Awards Luncheon. Honour the award recipients who are making a difference in the veterinary profession.

7. Build your contacts at the Emerging Leaders Program. If you’re a recent veterinary graduate, don’t miss the opportunity to develop leadership skills and to learn more about the leadership roles in the profession.

8. Make connections with others at diverse alumni receptions. Who knows who you can reconnect with and what possibilities can be explored.

9. If you aren’t a leader in the profession, one way to become one is to meet those who are. At the Summit of Veterinary Leaders, veterinarians from around the world explore hot topics in the profession and provide insight into the challenges facing the profession. It’s your chance to meet them, to chat and to have them answer questions.

10. Your registration fee offers great value. It includes a delegate bag, USB with conference presentations, access to the Summit of Veterinary Leaders, welcome reception, continuing education sessions, lunches, refreshment breaks and the Exhibit Hall.
